"Dance is a journey by which words can not guide you but rather the rhythm". Through 8 years of dance that rhythm has taken me from Jazz, Tap, and Ballet to lyrical/contemporary, hip hop and en pointe. As my body developed, I learned about fluidity and control. I grew into more mature dances that expressed themselves through lyrical/contemporary movement. I also could not ignore the little fire inside for a little hip hop sass. Ultimately the peak for me was graduating to go en pointe just a year and a half ago. That was not easy At All. I was the last one in my group to go on pointe by 2 years so although the setback felt self defeating (and embarrassing), the comeback has pushed me to try harder.

As a shy 7 year old starting dance, hiding behind my parents, I can see now how I developed so much more in my heart and mind. I learned teamwork, defeat, hard work, reward, compassion, confidence and self discipline. This all set the foundation for entering pageantry where I am now the PageantDoor Teen Miss Arizona. I could not have done it without dance pushing me to perform on stage and giving me control to glide on stage in an evening gown with elegance and grace. Now, I am part of my high schools competitive POM dance team and a member of the high school dance program which I tested into the 3rd level out of 4 going in as a Freshmen.

My goals including mastering a few more dance tricks like an aerial and handspring, and also maintaining my 3.8 gpa. After high school I want to be on a college or professional sport dance team while I work on pursuing a degree in legal studies. Of course, I would continue on with my volunteer work through pageantry and the National Honor Society as well as my personal project #lexi4literacy. Dance has been that glue that makes everything stick in my life where it makes sense. Love this quote: "The rhythm of the body, the melody of the mind, and the harmony of the soul create the symphony of life" ~B.K.S. Iyengar.

Aliyah has been dancing since she was 3 years old. Aliyah loves contemporary and would love to dance professionally one day. She works daily to develop new skills and strengthen already learned skills. Aliyah is working on her self confidence and overcoming her shyness. Aliyah has competed at several competitions including Dupree and Tremaine. She has been fortunate to learn from Tyce Dioro, Derek Huff and Paula Abdul. Aliyah has earned scholarships to Radix and Dupree.

Achievements: Aliyah dances at Marilyn's Academy of Dance. Marilyn has been in business for 47 years! It is the home of the Dancing Dads and has trained dancers that have gone on to dance for the AZ Cardinals, Phoenix Suns and the Rattlers. Marilyn's Academy of Dance is located in Peoria, AZ Annalise is a senior in high school Class Of 2020. She has been dancing since she was 5 years old. She takes ballet, jazz, tap, modern and hip hop. Jazz is her favorite style of dance. She has been on a competition dance team for 6 years. Annalise always wanted to be a Radio City Rockette but due to her height she is not tall enough. She has had many solos in her dancing career and has won and placed many awards. She will be heading to Westchester Community College in the fall to earn her associates degree in business. Her dream and goal is to open up her own dance studio. 2 years ago Annalise suffered an injury with her knee and doctors would not allow her to dance. She worked very hard in those 2 years getting her knee back to 100% and very happy she was able to finish her senior year doing what she loves most dancing.

Achievements: Annalise dances at Lori's Center Stage Dance Studio out of Danbury, CT. She is very grateful to all of her dance teachers and has learned so much from them.

Chayah Young

Chayah is a 12 yrs old who has been dancing at Spring Academy of Dance in Spring ,Tx for 3 yrs. Even though she hasn't been dancing long she has grown so fast to be a beautiful dancer. She is on the competition team and takes pre-pointe ballet class, Jazz, hip hop, And contemporary Classes. To get all the practice and experience she can get she helps out at the studio and attends a lot of conventions and workshops. She has performed in two Nutcracker ballet. Moscow Great Russian Nutcracker and the Houston Urban Nutcracker. She is very shy and sometimes doubts herself but she is working hard everyday to gain her confidence.

My name is Diamond Moseley and I am currently training at Joffrey Ballet School Texas as a Jazz/Contemporary trainee. My main goal is to become a professional dancer and influencer in the industry. My dream company that I would like to join is Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater in New York City. I've always studied and learned about Ailey since I started dancing and it's been a goal of mine that I'm very passionate about accomplishing. During my journey in the dance industry, my purpose is to connect, influence, and encourage other artist in the industry who can relate to my story and who I truly am as an artist, as well as outside of the arts. I have been training consecutively for 7 years. I attended Suitland High School and joined their Creative Visual Performing Arts program, majoring in dance. After graduating in 2018, I am now a Jazz/Contemporary Trainee at the Joffrey Ballet School in Texas. I plan to further my training in various places, being open to all opportunities.

My biggest challenge is overcoming anxiety. The arts comes with so many different people and personalities. It's challenging for me to step out of an area of comfortability. Although it's challenging I love it because it forces me to adjust quickly and not be so confined to one thing/idea.

Achievements: Joffrey Ballet School is a prestige dance school located in New York City. They have a pre-professional trainee program, located both in New York and Texas, that trains dancers for the professional world. The program is based around a strict curriculum that prepares dancers for the mental and physical attributes of a professional dancer. website- www.joffreyballetschool.com

Elizabeth wants a career in dance. She has considered being a dance teacher, as well as dancing for a production company. She has danced since she was in diapers. As a toddler, if she was playing in another room, and music came on the television, she would run in, dance for it, and then when the music stopped, she would leave.

While she is very flexible, strength does not come naturally to her, so she works very hard, practicing daily, to build that strength, and works with her teacher to develop solo routines that will showcase her flexibility but that will also push her to show strength and power. While many other dancers around her have taken gymnastics to learn tricks, due to costs, she has not, and instead, practices using YouTube videos. She's taught herself many of her acrobatic tricks. She's still trying to master her aerial. She's very close, so we're hoping that we can have a few private gym lessons to help with that.

She joined Jr. Team five years ago and one year later was asked to become a member of the Senior Team and to dance a solo. She was 3rd runner up for her solo, Rise, during Nationals her second year on team, in the Prime division. The next year, last year, in the more advanced Youth division, she placed in the Nationals top ten for her solo, Stranger Things. This year, due to the virus outbreak, there was no nationals, but at regional competition, she earned an overall placement in the Elite Teen division, and her trio, Human, won first place overall for duos, trios, and solos in the Elite Junior division.

She has had the opportunity to participate in dance conventions such as Nuvo, training in a variety of styles with Stacey Tookey, Anthony Morigerato, Mark Meismer, Tucker Barkley, Martha Nichols, and more. She earned a scholarship for being a stand-out in tap for her determination and resolve.

Dance is her life. There is not a day that she doesn't spend at least some time dancing. She loves choreography, both learning it and creating it. She's willing to try anything, and she leaves everything on the stage. What she lacks in natural ability, she makes up for with will, hard work, and perseverance.

Achievements: Elizabeth has danced with Erin's Danceworks since she was almost three years old. They teach jazz, tap, ballet, hip-hop, contemporary, and pointe. It's family-owned and operated. Many of the teachers are former students. The devil is in the details with Team ED. They consistently receive feedback from judges complimenting them on the attention to detail, and the consistency in performance level across every age group. They specialize in production numbers and group dances, while soloists are selected through an audition process where they work with a teacher to choreograph and perform a solo in the style of their choosing.

Several of their dancers have gone on to careers in dance, and come back to offer special classes and training. One recently graduated dancer is featured in an Off-Broadway production, and performed on television in last year's Macy's holiday launch spectacular in New York City.

The owner and teachers at Erin's are extended family. They are hard on the girls when they need to be, and give them loving hugs when needed, too. They teach the power of teamwork, hard work, dedication, and commitment. From their website, danceworks.com:

Founded in 1996, Erin's Danceworks began operation with 40 students and is currently enrolling 200 plus. We offer classes for ages three and up in Ballet, Pointe, Tap, Jazz, Contemporary, and Hip Hop. We offer an excellent preschool program for Ballet, Tap, Jazz and Hip Hop. We offer classes in all levels of dance, for all types of dancers; for those who just want to have fun or those who are serious competitors.

Over the past twenty years, Erin's Danceworks' Competition Team has received many state and national awards. We have had many "Dancer of the Year" title holders. We have also had dancers who were awarded the "Be Discovered" scholarships for LA and New York, and a place in the Desmond Richardson Workshop in New York. In conjunction with our yearly recital and competition team, we have also done many local performances to help fundraise for associations in our community. Some of our dancers have continued on and have found employment with Royal Caribbean Cruise Lines, Princess Cruise Lines, Walt Disney World, Busch Gardens, International Dance Challenge, and DANCEAMERICA.

Erin's Danceworks is a place where your child can come to learn the art and discipline of dance in a fun and friendly atmosphere!

Harper was a born performer. From the moment she could walk and talk she was entertaining everyone she came into contact with; and she still has the same charismatic personality to this day. She has a natural gift for tap and loves musical theatre pulling everyone in to whatever story she is telling. When Harper hits the stage she brings a fired up performance that makes you want to get up and dance with her. Because of her infectious personality she has received numerous awards for stage presence and entertainment quality. One day Harper has big dreams of becoming a dance teacher and also a classroom teacher. But for now she is happy dancing with her friends and learning and growing at her second home, Apogee Dance Academy.

Haylee began dancing at 2 years old. By the time she was 4 she was performing and competing her first solo. Dance quickly became her passion and her calling. Now at 10 years old she is the 2020 national photogenic model and an apparel model for GROOVE dance competition. Haylee is also a nationally awarded dancer and has received a number of dance scholarships and stand out awards. One day, Haylee's dream and plan is to attend college in New York and open her very open dance studio where she can share her love of dance with others.

When I was younger I was a foster youth. At my foster moms house I'd always watch Step up, Honey, Bring it on. Anything that was dancing. The only thing that I felt made me happy and free was movement. I started with Gymnastics and then went to dancing. I went back to my biological parents and my mom did not like the fact that I danced. My father didn't like the fact I wanted to be a professional dancer. So they took me out of dance. Went to the studio and demanded my dance teacher not let me come in and dance. For 8 years I didn't dance. It was the hardest time of my life cause my mind and body wanted to but I was scared. After 8 years I go to a studio and there is so many amazing dancers that I knew I wanted to be their and be as good as them. After training for a year I went to Sacramento city college. I made it on to the dance team! GO PANTHERS!! My goal is to be a NBA dancer Miami Heat to be exact. Through it all dance has always been there for me even when it got took away. I will be a professional dancer and maybe even a back up dancer. But I never gave up on my dream!

Jenna Justice is a 19 year old dancer who has been dancing since she was 3 years old. From 7th to 12th grade she was a part of her school's dance teams. She also danced competitively for several years at different dance conventions. Her studio has a "Dancer Of The Year" award they give out annually, and she has received that reward twice. When Jenna was 16 she auditioned for a program called "Actor's Model's, and Talent for Christ", and she auditioned with acting and dancing, and received a callback for both. She later showcased her talents at the Shine 2017 Summer Showcase in Dallas Texas in front of several talent agents and managers. Another thing Jenna does is share her love of dance with little ones. She is a dance teacher, and dance teacher's assistant.

I have been dancing for 18 years and competing for 6 years. I danced with the Miami City ballet in their performance of the Nutcracker and also as the snow queen in Etude De Ballet's Nutcracker. I won many judges awards and placed at several competitions and have now gone on to dance in college at Salisbury University. There I am a part of the Dance Company and perform two showcases a semester. Last semester I was chosen to take master classes and attend ACDA at the University of Maryland. I also have worked closely with John Lehrer and his company member Cici setting a piece for his upcoming tour. I hope to one day be able to dance professionally and work closely with dance companies around the world.

Achievements: Salisbury University Dance Company

We've been invited to ACDA and give successful showcases each semester. Many of our directors dancers have gone off to dance and teach professionally. Located in Salisbury, Maryland at Salisbury University We are a small program and looking to really expand and get out into the world with our wonderful new director Helen Myers

I have always seen dancing as a part of me, so I have always given it my all. I love competing with my dance studio, Dance Unlimited of the River Parishes. I have won many competitions in group dances, duos/trios, and solos. Even with those wins I have had many loses, but they do not define me and I always try to better myself for the next competition. I have been facing challenges ever since I was little whether it was family issues or physical issues I have always tried to get back doing what I love. I was recently diagnosed with patellar subluxation, which means my knee cap pops itself out of place, and I had a surgery on my foot that I spent six months recovering to get back to dancing.

After going through everything I made it back to dance just in time to march in parades with my studio and compete along side my team. Dancing has given me my best friend and a purpose in life!
